Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-6 in the reply filed on 7/25/05 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1- 3, 6, 14-16, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McLain (4309924).

McLain shows a nut used in a wrench, that has a U-shaped "spring" around the nut to hold it in various positions. McLain discloses stops (col.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mendenhall (1301958).

Mendenhall shows a nut surrounded by a spring, figures 6, 12, and 13 with one end of the spring on the nut and the other end on the workpiece (AA).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mendenhall which shows the use of various types of "stops", such as grooves in figure 13. To use pins, instead of grooves, is an obvious reversal of design as both structures perform the same function claimed, to stop the nut from moving past a certain point.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 17 and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 7/25/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

9. Applicant has offered arguments in order to place the application in conditions for allowance. New claims were presented as well.

a. The new allowable subject matter has been cited and the new claims have been treated.

b. There was still felt to apply because for the spring to hold something in position means that it has to bias the nut or act on the nut to lock its position. Even in the portion cited by the applicant the term bears against is used which is equivalent to biasing.

Conclusion

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
